USA BASEBALL LAUNCHES NATIONAL TEAM IDENTIFICATION SERIES IN CARY, N.C.

In 2009 USA Baseball will introduce the youth program-wide National Team Identification Series (NTIS), guaranteeing the organization's most comprehensive evaluation of talent in the 13U, 15U and 17U age groups ever.

The NTIS promises to be one of the most heavily-scouted and premier events of the fall calendar. The event will consist of three separate age groups and a total of 648 players all competing for a chance to be selected by a USA Baseball National Team program and represent their country. The event will be held at the USA Baseball National Training Complex and adjoining Thomas Brooks Park in Cary, N.C. from Sept. 17-20, 2009.

"The 2009 NTIS represents a unique opportunity for any player aspiring to compete at the elite level of the game," says USA Baseball Executive Director/CEO Paul Seiler.

"From our 14U program to the World Baseball Classic team, USA Baseball has the privilege of developing the very best that the United States has to offer year after year. To have the most talented players in the country over three different age groups competing at our National Training Complex at the same time will make for a truly remarkable baseball atmosphere."

USA Baseball will name a minimum of eight players to the 2010 Tournament of Stars (18U), a minimum of eight players to the 2010 16U National Team Trials, a minimum of 24 players to the 2009 14U National Team Trials, and a minimum of 24 players to the 2010 14U National Team Trials. For a player born between 1994 and 1997 this represents the primary identification opportunity to play for a USA Baseball National Team program.

Albert Almora, star of two gold medal-winning 14U National Teams and the 2009 16U National Team which recently won the IBAF Youth World Championships title, and a veteran of the NTIS program, credits the event in helping him bring out the best in his game. "The 2008 NTIS was great competition," Almora says. "It really gave me something to work for. There were a lot of kids trying out, so I knew I had to step it up and show what I've got."

Almora says that the NTIS prepared him for his two tournaments with the 14U National Team. Experiences, he says, that he will never forget.

"It was the greatest thing that has ever happened to me, and I want to continue doing it for the rest of my life."
